No place for ideology in education: Dr. S.L. Bhyrappa

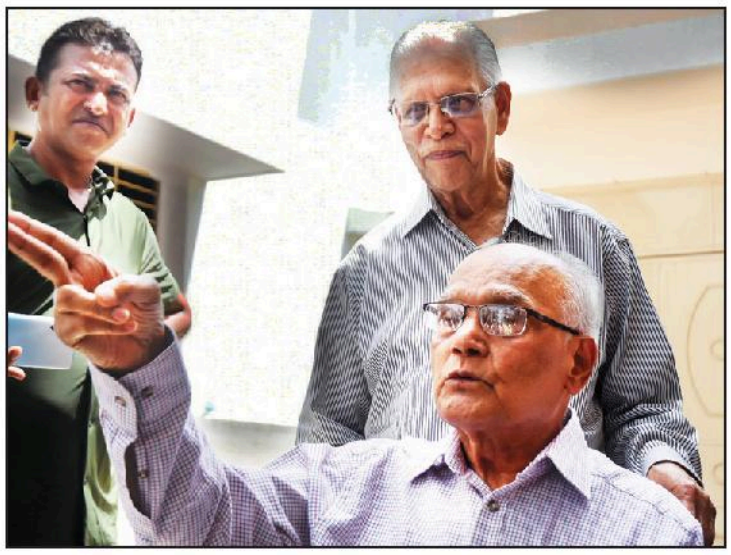
Mysuru, June 2 (PM&BCT)- Noted litterateur and Saraswathi Samman awardee Dr. S.L. Bhyrappa has spoken about the controversies surrounding State syllabus textbooks and said that the objections raised by some political parties and ideology-driven writers have no credibility nor standing. "Education means truth and schools must teach only the truth to students," he said.

Addressing a press conference at his residence in Kuvempunagar here this morning, Dr. Bhyrappa touched upon various issues, the prominent one being political parties imposing their ideologies on students.

"They will oppose any Government that speaks truth and they will resist any move to dislodge the ideology based syllabus that has been imposed on young minds for decades," he said.

When Atal Behari Vajpayee was the Prime Minister, the Government tried to teach authentic history and social studies. That time too, these political parties opposed and cried hoarsely. "They could not resist attempts by the Government to remove the factually incorrect history as narrated by certain vested interests and ideology-driven historians. Even when Narendra Modi became the Prime Minister, many resorted to the malicious 'Award Wapsi' campaigns," Dr. Bhyrappa recalled.

"History must be based on facts and any distortion is fictional history. All these years, children were studying the textbooks written and ratified by people or historians who had a hidden agenda of brain-washing young minds for the sake of votes. Historians narrated the history as desired by their political patrons. There is no place for ideology in education and there is only place for truth," he said.



Dr. S.L. Bhyrappa seen addressing a press meet at his residence in Kuvempunagar this morning as former Chairman of Kuvempu Bhasha Bharathi Prof. Pradhan Gurudatta and others look on.

Dr. Bhyrappa recalls how he was removed from NCERT panel for questioning distortion of history

Recalling his professional days with NCERT (National Council of Educational Research and Training) in New Delhi, Dr. Bhyrappa said that when Indira Gandhi was the PM, she framed National Integration Rules and as part of it, a committee was formed under the Presidentship of G. Parthasarathy, who was the Policy Advisor to Indira Gandhi and was her confidante and was also close to Jawaharlal Nehru family.

"Parthasarathy later formed a National Syllabus Revision Committee and five members were appointed and I was one among the members. In the very first meeting, Parthasarathy told us to cleanse the history and social studies textbooks. I asked what actually must be removed from the textbooks," Dr. Bhyrappa recalled.

"Parthasarathy replied to me that in the textbooks, it has been mentioned that Mughal ruler Aurangzeb destroyed hundreds of temples including the Kashi Vishwanath Temple at Varanasi, revered by lakhs of Hindus. Parthasarathy asked me if this is needed in the history books and such incidents will pollute young minds. I was surprised and asked Parthasarathy if Aurangzeb did not destroy Kashi Vishwanath Temple. Parthasarathy had no answer for that," Dr. Bhyrappa said.

Overhead electric line causes 40% burn injuries to child

▶ Boy awaits plastic surgery ▶ Family blames CESC; Officers deny negligence

Mysuru, June 2 (RK&BCT)- In an incident reminiscent of the accident that occurred in Mysuru on Oct.4, 2016, when the then 13-year-old Meghana lost her right hand due to electric shock while watching a helicopter flying at V.V. Mohalla, a 5-year-old boy recently suffered burn injuries when electric sparks flew from a bunch of overhead wires that were close to a house.

Though the incident occurred on May 8, it has come to light now. The little boy, who studies in pre-kg school, suffered 40 percent burn injuries and is awaiting plastic surgery. He is out of danger now but has to keep visiting hospitals for multiple treatments before the plastic surgery is done.

The child with its mother at their residence this morning.

Little Karthikeyan, a resident of C Block in J.P. Nagar, came in contact with the overhead electricity wires that were very close to the house where he was playing.

On May 8 at 4 pm, he headed out to play and reached the second floor of a house opposite his house. While he was standing on the staircase, there was a loud blast and electricity sparks flew all over.

EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

Spirituality entails looking inwards to assess our thoughts, shed negativity and work toward imbibing purity and positivity, moment to moment. Self-control, quest for truth, and intuitive wisdom are all embellishments that one gathers during the course of one's spiritual evolution. Over a period of time, spirituality paves way for a mind that thinks on the lines of inclusiveness and is full of love. These virtues are at the core of all religions. Acceptance of the fact that all religions lead to the common goal puts an end to all differentiation.

Oneness is the deep understanding that we are all interconnected and interdependent. While this is a simple truth, it's also profound and powerful, because it's so different from the belief that we are separate and that we need to struggle and compete against each other to survive. We are much better off when we work together to survive. In Oneness, there are no winners or losers. All of us become winners. Once one starts living and acting in this manner, life moves towards its aim and success. Oneness is not a religion, but it is at the core of every religion. And more than a belief, it's a scientific fact. Scientifically also, at the subatomic level, we are all connected. The same energy that powers me powers you. Consider the light bulb. It doesn't matter where that light bulb is made or what it looks like, it is electricity that lights all light bulbs. — Maj. Gen. (retd.) Mohinderpal Singh in The Times of India

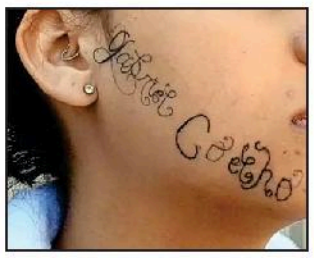
Man kidnaps ex-girlfriend, tattoos name



Sao Paulo: A man in Brazil has been accused of kidnapping his ex-girlfriend and tattooing his name on the side of her face, as revenge for breaking up with him.

An 18-year-old woman from the Brazilian State of Sao Paulo, was on her way to school last Friday, when she was approached by her ex-boyfriend, who forced her to get into his car. Afraid she would be attacked if she didn't comply, the young woman got into the vehicle and was taken to her ex's home in Taubaté.

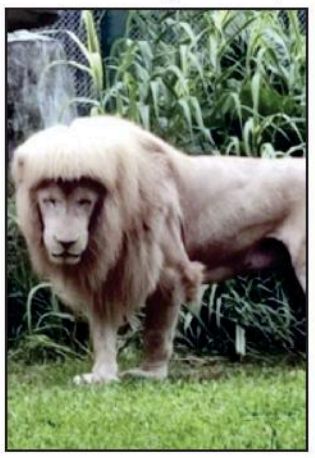
Lion with straight mane makes millions go crazy



Guangzhou: Photos of a lion at a zoo sporting straight mane which went viral online, has left many crazy.

Photos of this lion at a zoo in Guangzhou, China, which recently went viral for sporting an impeccable mane that seemed styled after the baby bangs we see female celebrities sporting on the red carpet at various events has sparked some controversy online, with many accusing the zoo staff of cutting the animal's hair, a claim that the zoo has repeatedly denied.

VOICE OF THE READER

Problems faced by citizens of Mysuru

Sir,

Most of the roads in the city are full of craters and potholes. This poses a hazard to motorists and pedestrians. Pavement paver blocks too are unevenly laid which is extremely dangerous for pedestrians, especially after dusk.

There is a vegetable market behind Dasara Exhibition Grounds. As vegetables are strewn around by vendors, a lot of cattle roam around the entire area throughout the day and night. They feed on the rotting vegetables, loiter around and create a big nuisance for pedestrians and motorists.

This is also a health hazard as a lot of garbage collects there, which contributes to mosquito breeding and insects. Also, there are a lot of garbage heaps around the entire city.

A lot of accidents occur because of reckless driving by motorists. The cops should be alert and levy heavy fines for reckless driving, speeding, driving on the wrong side and breaking traffic signals. Street-lights should also be installed on all roads and should be working after dusk.

Mysuru is a beautiful city which is neglected. It would be good for the betterment of the city if all the authorities concerned wake up and take prompt action.

Complex aortic procedures successfully carried out at Manipal Hospital

Mysuru, June 2- Heart and vascular team at Manipal Hospital, Mysuru, has successfully carried out 12 complex aortic procedures over the past 36 months.

The surgical and interventional skills of the team with a combined experience of more than 25 years, have made the procedure safe for patients with excellent results.

Addressing a press meet in city recently, Dr. C.B. Keshavamurthy, Consultant Interventional Cardiology and Dr. Upendra Shenoy, Cardiothoracic and Vascular Surgeon, Manipal Hospital, Mysuru, described the various procedures done in detail on how such complex aortic surgeries can now be treated at Mysuru, with experienced team and state-of-the-art facility. A combined surgical and interventional approach gives the best result for these patients.

Aorta is the largest artery in the human body and takes the burden of the entire output of blood from the heart with every heartbeat, throughout our entire lifetime. Aortic diseases and injuries can often be life threatening with deaths in up to 40 - 50% of patients. The disease becomes critical and life threatening and very challenging to treat when it involves the branches to the vital organs.

Aortic surgery has the highest mortality rate worldwide, due to its complex nature and great skill and coordinated team effort is required in treating them in a timely manner to save lives.

Dr. Upendra Shenoy, Cardiothoracic and Vascular Surgeon, Manipal Hospital, Mysuru, seen addressing a press meet in city recently Dr. C. B. Keshavamurthy, Interventional Cardiology, Manipal Hospital and Pramod Kunder, Hospital Director, look on.

The procedures were carried out in different age groups of patients ranging from 38 to 77 years. These are two illustrative patient histories:

1. A 38-year-old home-maker had sudden onset of tearing chest pain and collapsed at home. She was immediately taken to a hospital, where primary treatment was given, tests showed rupture of aorta, leaking aortic valve with collection of blood around the heart. If untreated death was imminent.

Patient was then shifted to Manipal Hospital in a very critical condition with very low blood pressure and repeated cardiac arrests. The Cardiovascular team headed by Dr. Upendra Shenoy successfully operated on this critical patient and replaced the entire ruptured aortic tube and valve. Miraculously, this patient survived this very complex surgery and is now well and back to her family role.

2. A 77-year-old farmer by profession, presented with severe chest pain and weakness of left arm and leg. On examination he was diagnosed to have a tear in the aorta with compromised blood supply to brain. This patient underwent a first-of-its-kind hybrid procedure in Mysuru with both - operation to bypass the brain vessel and covered stent to protect the torn portion of the aorta. Procedure was successful and patient is well without any weakness of limbs or chest pain.

Pramod Kunder, Hospital Director, Dr. B. Bhavana, Regional Head, Marketing & Branding, Manipal Hospitals Pvt. Ltd. and Sant Kumar, Marketing Unit Head, were also present.

Legislative Council Polls from South Graduates Constituency

BJP candidate's victory is certain:

Ex-Union Minister Sadananda Gowda

Mysuru, June 2 (RKB&DM)- Asserting that the BJP candidate M.V. Ravishankar's victory in the Legislative Council polls from South Graduates Constituency is certain, former Union Minister and senior BJP leader D.V. Sadananda Gowda said that the educated voters are openly supporting the BJP candidate, which proves the enormous support that the party has.

He was addressing a press meet at a private hotel in city yesterday.

Pointing out that Ravishankar is a committed and humble BJP worker who has worked for the party for decades, Sadananda Gowda, who is also a former Chief Minister, said he perceives no opposition to the party candidate.

Noting that some lapses led to the defeat of Ravishankar in the last election, he lauded the campaign of party workers. He asked them not to commit the mistakes that led to the defeat of the party last time.

Referring to Opposition Leader Siddharamaiah's attack on RSS, Sadananda Gowda said such attacks was unwarranted as the RSS is known for working for the cause of the society.

In a sarcastic note, the senior leader said that, but for the past few days, the war of words between the Congress and JD(S), with Siddharamaiah in focus, has taken the limelight, completely overshadowing Siddu's attack on the RSS.

Replying to a question on some writers submitting their resignation to Government Committees and several other writers withdrawing permission for teaching of lessons written by them, in protest against textbook revision, Sadananda Gowda said that Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai and Primary and Secondary Education Minister B.C.Nagesh are making efforts to talk with them for ending the row.

MP Pratap Simha, who also addressed the press meet, strongly contended that the BJP Government had not insulted Rashtrakavi Kuvempu, as alleged by some writers and activists.

Pointing out that Kuvempu's prose and poetry lessons can be found in all classes from one to ten, Simha said that this is an honour for the Rashtrakavi.

Replying to a question on leaving out some chapters of History and lessons of some writers, Simha argued that the lessons were left out earlier itself and as such there is nothing to be removed now.

Responding to mass resignation of some writers from Government Committees in protest against school textbook revision, Simha questioned why Kamala Hampana, wife of writer Hampa Nagarajaiah had not quit, when her husband has quit in protest against textbook revision. He charged writers and other intellects who are targeting the Government over textbook revision issue, of creating unnecessary controversies and indirectly helping the Congress.

Simha further said that those who are out to advise the society, must first learn to respect the society.

MLA L. Nagendra, City BJP President T.S. Srivatsa, KEA Chairman Hemanth Kumar Gowda, BJP leaders Mohan, Cable Mahesh and others were present at the press meet.

Congress condemns

Sadananda Gowda's remark

H.A.Venkatesh

Mysuru, June 2 (RKB&DM)- Strongly condemning the statement of former Union Minister and senior BJP leader D.V. Sadananda Gowda that there are no competitors for the BJP in the Legislative Council polls from South Graduates Constituency, KPCC Spokesperson H.A. Venkatesh said that informed voters have taken note of this irresponsible statement of the former Union Minister.

In a press statement, Venkatesh accused the BJP Governments at the Centre and the State of making false promises. Alleging that the Government has utterly failed in addressing unemployment, rising inflation, spiralling prices of essential commodities and such other burning issues, Venkatesh charged the BJP of misusing its power to influence or coerce voters in Government establishments and educational institutions.

Maintaining that the Congress is in a favourable position ahead of the polls, he said that graduate voters, who are dejected by the false promises and claims of the BJP, are turning towards the Congress. Asserting that the voters still remember the achievements and contributions of the previous Siddharamaiah led Congress Government, he observed that the alert voters have lost trust in the BJP Government.

He said there are many teaching faculty positions vacant for long in Universities while at the same time scores of jobless youths are searching for a job.

Bengaluru, June 2- Following charges of corruption, Kodihalli Chandrashekar has been sacked as President of KRRS (Karnataka Rajya Raitha Sangha) and Hasiru Sene, with immediate effect.

The decision to sack Chandrashekar was taken at an emergency meeting convened by the KRRS at Shivamogga on Tuesday, during which senior farmer leader H.R. Basavarajappa was elected as the new President of the farmer body.

Kodihalli Chandrashekar, who took the lead in the State-wide KSRTC employees stir held last year (April 2021), has been accused of taking a huge bribe for ending the stir.

Mysore University to start Pharmacy College in 2023

Mysuru, June 2 (PM&BCT)- After tasting success following the establishment of engineering college, the University of Mysore (UoM) will start a pharmacy college in the next academic year. The process of admission will commence in December, said UoM Vice-Chancellor Prof. G. Hemantha Kumar.

He was speaking after inaugurating a workshop aimed at the AICTE (All India Council for Technical Education)-Induction programme for students of Mysore University School of Engineering organised by the School of Engineering, at Vignana Bhavan yesterday.

The University will introduce a pharmacy course in continuation of the expansion of its offerings of professional courses. "There was a ban on the introduction of pharmacy colleges all these years, but we received the approval on May 31. We will seek approval to introduce B.Pharma," he added.

The UoM has identified four acres of land for the pharmacy college and all legal issues have been sorted out in the Supreme Court, he added. "After a gap of 24 years, engineering and job-oriented courses are making an entry in the Varsity. We had declared the introduction of engineering and pharmacy colleges in 2019 and the land was reserved at Chamundi foothill. But we have reserved lands on the UoM campus itself," he said.

The VC said that the University has come up with a new building for the pharmacy college and will be named 'Mysore University School of Pharmacy'.

"We have robust departments on our campus in chemistry, biochemistry and biotechnology. The plan is to synergise the activities of all these branches culminating in product development. We will not just offer conventional courses but have the vision to create a research and development centre in pharmaceuticals aimed at community welfare," he added.

"We are introducing new courses that are tailor-made to the requirement of the industry and the School of Engineering launched in 2021-22 was a step in this direction. Subjects like Artificial Intelligence and Data Science, Artificial Intelligence and Machine Learning, and Biomedical and Robotic Engineering are being taught. In another 3.5 years, 180 engineers will graduate from UoM," he added.

Chief Justice Ramana was also invited to pay a visit to JSS Spiritual Mission in Maryland, while visiting the United States of America (USA).

JD(S) has no gratitude: M. Lakshmana

Mysuru, June 2 (RKB&TRR)- Karnataka Pradesh Congress Committee (KPCC) Spokesperson M. Lakshmana has alleged that the JD(S) has no gratitude for the favours it has received from the Congress party.

He made this allegation while speaking to press persons at Congress Bhavan yesterday.

"Elections are being held for the Rajya Sabha (RS) seats from Karnataka on June 10 and the JD(S) is acting like a B team of BJP in this election. During the last RS election, Congress supported H.D. Deve Gowda and sent him to RS but JD(S) has no gratitude for that gesture. Congress also supported H.D. Kumaraswamy to become the Chief Minister. He enjoyed power for 16 months because of Congress support. He also has no gratitude and is criticising the Congress, thereby indirectly supporting BJP," he alleged.

Lakshmana said that RSS has given 'supari' to Pralhad Joshi, C.T. Ravi and Pratap Simha to criticise former CM Siddharamaiah and claimed that the Congress party will win the second RS seat also as both BJP and JD(S) voters will cast their second preference votes in favour of Congress candidate Mansoor Khan. He also advised JD(S) to be grateful for the past support and help Mansoor Khan now.

Textbook Revision

"Chairman of Textbook Revision Committee Rohith Chakrathirtha had defamed Jnanpith Awardee Kuvempu and Basavanna first and now he is criticising other writers. BJP is ready to defame anybody for power," he opined and said that CM Basavaraj Bommai is giving evasive reply promising action.

Government mulling on effecting changes in textbook revision

Bengaluru, June 2 (KMS& DM)- With the school textbook revision snowballing into a major controversy with several writers, Seers and other intellects taking strong exception to the Government's action, the State Government has now come forward for a partial review of textbook revision.

Meanwhile, in the backdrop of a series of demonstrations being held in protest against the alleged insult meted out to Kuvempu and Basavanna, Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai has directed Primary and Secondary Education Minister B.C. Nagesh to submit a comprehensive report on the ongoing textbook revision in a day.

Speaking to presspersons in the State capital on Wednesday, Bommai said that a decision on reviewing the textbook revision will be taken shortly after the sought report is submitted by the Minister.

Responding to reports that several writers have withdrawn permission for publishing of their articles or stories in textbooks, Bommai said that the opinion of writers, intellects and Seers will be taken into account. The Government will talk to such writers who have withdrawn permission and try to convince them, he added.

Dr. S.L. Bhyrappa recalls how he was removed from NCERT panel

Narrating the proceedings of the National Syllabus Revision Committee meeting, Dr. Bhyrappa said, "I asked Parthasarathy that what does one infer when he/she saw a Nandi staring at a mosque in Varanasi? What if the students question the teacher tomorrow on this? Parthasarathy had no answers to these questions and he led me to his chamber and told me, 'You are from Karnataka and I am from Tamil Nadu and we must be like brothers. Let's not fight.' After listening to Parthasarathy, I headed out."

"In the next meeting held after 15 days, I again asked the same questions as I did not get any answers earlier. Parthasarathy ended the meeting there itself. After a few days, a Government notification was published which said that the National Syllabus Revision Committee has been reconstituted and my name was missing from the list," Dr. Bhyrappa recalled.

"The five-member composition was retained and instead of me, one left-leaning historian was appointed and this committee changed the history and social studies books and hid the real history from the students. All lessons were favourable to the left-leaning ideology and the authentic history was dropped. The lessons projected outside invaders as heroes and India's real treasures, history and knowledge found no place in those books. As most of the States were ruled by the Congress, all meekly accepted the syllabus and no one protested," he added.

In his concluding remarks, the noted litterateur said that academics have been spoilt for the sake of votes. "Agenda-driven historians, academicians and also vote-bank-focussed politicians have corrupted young minds," he regretted.

Dhanraj Sitharam, a resident of the locality and Karthikeyan's uncle, told Star of Mysore that the sparks hit the upper body of the little boy and his face, hands, chest and shoulders got burnt. "He was in a semi-conscious state and we rushed him to the nearby Kamakshi Hospital. His parents Babblu and Manju were shell shocked. After primary treatment, the boy was referred to JSS Hospital," he said.

After treatment in the emergency ward, the doctors informed the family that Karthikeyan or Laddu as he is affectionately called, had suffered 40 percent (fourth-degree) burns. He was later shifted to the ICU, Dhanraj added. Karthikeyan has been discharged from the hospital after being in the ICU for over 15 days.

"This is a clear case of negligence by Chamundeshwari Electricity Supply Corporation (CESC) who had left a high voltage (11,000 volts) naked wire in close proximity to the house above which tree branches were hanging. The tree branches might have triggered the blast and the family is awaiting justice," he said.

CESC denies negligence

Sridhar, CESC Assistant Executive Engineer (AEE), Chamundipuram, told SOM that the building owner had constructed the house close to the power line. "The electric wire was dangerously close to the house and the boy might have thrown a ball on them that triggered the blast. The building owner has violated the rules and there is no negligence on our part," he clarified.

While the little boy's family maintained that Karthikeyan was standing on the staircase when the blast occurred, the CESC Officer maintained that a ball was thrown at the wires that triggered the blast. No one knows what really happened that evening.

Now, the electric pole has been shifted to the opposite side of the road and the wires are at a distance from the row houses. The CESC team has insulated the naked wires to prevent further accidents.

DECODING MYTHOLOGY

Dr. Devdutt Pattanaik - Author, Speaker, Illustrator, Mythologist

Creepy-Crawly Lore

The story of Bhramari Devi comes to us from Andhra Pradesh's Mallikarjuna temple. It is said that there was an asura called Arunasura. He had asked for protection from all creatures that have no legs, two legs or four legs. This meant he was protected from every fish, bird, beast and human being. He thought this would make him immortal. So, he kept troubling the Gods.

The Gods invoked Bhramari Devi. She, in turn, produced six legged insects from her body that attacked the asura and killed him.

Thus, nature creates things that we cannot imagine. This theme is found in Hindu mythology repeatedly. An asura asks a boon which allows him to think he can outsmart death. But the Gods find a weakness in the book and exploit it. Arunasura's story brings the insect world to the centre stage.

Insects are not a common theme in Hindu mythology. Amongst all the insects in the Hindu mythology, the one that gets prominence is the honeybee. Primarily because bees go to flowers and make honey. We find the honeybee connected with the God of Love.

It is said that Kamadeva, the God of Love, has a bow. The bow's limb is made of sugarcane and its string is made out of bees. Thus, bees become a metaphor for the lover and the beloved. Honey represents the emotion of love and affection.

In Krishna lore, we find the bee appearing in the famous Bhavar Geet. When Krishna leaves Radha, he returns to meet her in the form of a bee. Radha complains that Krishna is like the bee who moves from flower to flower, while she is the flower stuck to the branch of a tree. She cannot move the way he does and remains in the village she lives in. This emotion becomes a code in the Baramasi songs of the Gangetic plains where women yearn for their travelling beloveds.

Insects do play a role in mythologies around the world. In Biblical mythology, the creepy crawly insects are linked to the Devil who is even given the title of Lord of the Fleas.

In Greek mythology, Minos is cursed that if he sheds semen in the body of a woman who is not his wife he will emit insects. To save his lovers, Minos invents the world's first condom.

The Goddess Athena curses a woman called Arachne who claims to be a better weaver to turn into a spider.

Then there is the story of Eos, the Goddess of Dawn, who grants her lover immortality but not eternal youth. He turns into the cicada.

In Egyptian mythology, great value is placed on the scarab or dung beetle who rolls dung such that it reminded ancient poets of the sun being pushed into the sky out of the night by some celestial insect.

In Roman mythology, butterflies became the symbol of the soul. Japanese mythology values the dragonfly as a symbol of courage because a dragonfly ate a mosquito that bit the first emperor Jimmu, and tried to steal his royal-divine blood.

Thus insects, like everything else in mythology, can be turned into a metaphor to communicate ideas from the practical to the metaphysical.

French Open 2022 Quarter-Finals

Ruud outlasts Rune to reach first major semi-final

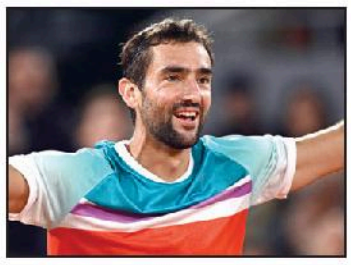
Paris, June 2- After needing nearly six months to achieve his 2022 goal of reaching a first Grand Slam quarter-final, Casper Ruud's next career milestone came fairly quickly by comparison.

The Norwegian was tested by Denmark's Holger Rune over three hours and 18 minutes on Court Philippe-Chatrier, in the first all-Scandinavian quarter-final in Roland-Garros history.

But as another chapter in their region's storied history was written in Paris, it was Ruud who had the last word.

The 23-year-old surged past Rune and weathered a mid-match wobble to win 6-1, 4-6, 7-6(2), 6-3 and move into his first Grand Slam final four, where he will meet 2014 US Open champion Marin Cilic.

Marin Cilic beats Andrey Rublev in thrilling five-setter



Paris, June 2- Croatia's Marin Cilic has qualified for the semi-final of the French Open 2022 after beating Russia's Andrey Rublev in a thrilling five-setter at the Phillippe-Chatrier on Wednesday.

Being the higher-ranked player of the two, Rublev started the match by winning the first set. But Cilic made a stupendous comeback and won the second and third sets. Rublev, somehow, got a foothold back in the contest after winning the fourth set.

In the fifth and final set, both Cilic and Rubley threw punches at each other and it went into a tie-breaker. From there on, Rublev seemed to have lost a lot of steam and Cilic kept churning one point after the other.

Cilic was excellent when it came to smashing winners as he pulled as many as 88 of them compared to his opponent's 35. Cilic also churned out 33 aces to keep Rublev at bay and on his toes.

WORD OF THE DAY

Benevolent

Pronunciation: buh-NEV-uh-lunt.
Meaning: Benevolent means "kind and generous," or less commonly, "organised for the purpose of doing good."
Origin: One who is benevolent genuinely wishes other people well, a meaning reflected clearly in the word's Latin roots: benevolent comes from bene, meaning "good," and velle, meaning "to wish." Other descendants of velle in English include volition, which refers to the power to make one's own choices or decisions, and voluntary, as well as the rare velleity, meaning either "the lowest degree of volition" or "a slight wish or tendency." A more familiar velle descendant stands directly opposed to benevolent: malevolent describes someone or something having or showing a desire to cause harm to another person.
Example: "I want to thank the benevolent stranger who found my keys and reunited me with them after seven months." — Curt Vazquez

THE ODD WORD

Bagnio

Bathing house.

PHRASE OF THE DAY

Blaze a trail

Meaning: It is used to talk about leading the way or clearing a path toward progress. Finding a new path, beginning a new undertaking.
Origin: The term "Blaze a Trail" is believed to come from the mid-1770s, although it is entirely possible that the phrase was used before then. "Blazes" were notches or marks that were left on trees, indicating which way travellers should go to stick to a trail in the forest. Blazes are still used today to mark trails, with different markings that indicate different things. An early example can be seen in Dr. Thomas Walker's 1750 Journal of Exploration: "I blazed a way from our house to the River and I blazed several trees in the fork and marked T.W. on a sycamore tree." A later article from a November 1883 edition of Montana newspaper The Helena Independent uses the phrase precisely: "The merchants thereupon, desirous of securing the trade of the new mines, offered the stranger $100 if he would blaze a trail through, and afterwards it could be cleared sufficiently for pack animals to pass along."
Example: ''The suffragists blazed a trail, eventually convincing lawmakers to give American women the right to vote.''
